Reach for the Stars

"Always dream and shoot higher than you know you can do. Do not bother just to be better than your contemporaries or predecessors. Try to be better than yourself."

— William Faulkner

I remember when my two girls were born. I remember holding them for the first time. I remember when they first walked. I remember their first days of school, their last days of Primary school. In the past few weeks they have recommenced their University studies. Life changed when they left home to pursue studies and dreams. As parents we remember listening to the dreams of our children. As a four year old my eldest daughter wanted to be a vet and the youngest a princess "when they grew up". They both still have dreams.

Where do these dreams come from? Children are born with vivid imaginations. Imaginations just like bodies need nourishing. Our responsibility as parents and educators is to inspire others, and in particular children. How can we do that?

We can inspire others by

- Being a good example (People watch what you do more than they listen to what you say. Be someone worth emulating)
- Caring about others (People don't care about how much you know until they know how much you care. Take a genuine interest in people)
- Encouraging (Everyone goes through tough times. When you support people and encourage them through these times, you'll be inspiring them to see the best in themselves and the situation.)
- Be inspired yourself (Look for people, ideas, environments and knowledge that you find inspiring and motivating.)
- Share from your own experience (Mine the rich experiences of your life and share your wisdom from your unique point of view.)
- Be vulnerable (Be willing to share your failures as well as your successes. Others will relate to you. They'll understand that they're not the only ones with challenges.)
- Tell stories (Facts tell and stories sell. They inspire too. We learn best from parables and we all need to develop our own inspiring stories.)
- Be a good communicator (Watch how you speak and what you say)
- Challenge people (Many of us have had teachers who at times seemed more like tormentors than mentors. They challenged us to do our best.)

In our school community of over 460 children, 50 staff and community members we all have dreams. In our school community there may be the child who grows up to discover the cure for cancer, or the child who is able to solve the crisis in Myanmar, or a child that is able to resolve world poverty. At different times in the past five years children from Sacred Heart have expressed a desire to resolve these three issues. It is up to each one of us to challenge and inspire our children to get closer to these dreams.

“Every great dream began with a dreamer. Always remember, you have within you the strength, the patience, and the passion to reach for the stars and to change the world.”

- Harriet Tubman

School Uniform

The Sacred Heart Catholic Primary School Board after input from the Uniform Team and input from parent and staff survey data have finalised a change to our school uniform for 2022.

Brent Wilson
PRINCIPAL

TOGETHER; bound by faith, in Jesus' image.

We are well into the Season of Lent. Our children have been celebrating Liturgies and prayerful time considering how we can all Be More and how we can support those in need.

All families have Project Compassion boxes at home. I hope we are able to contribute to the wonderful work of CARITAS.

All our students have engaged in the Good News for Living this term, learning about Jesus, who He is, about His compassion, His leadership and His teachings. As we move towards Holy Week, we continue to reflect on the person Jesus was and the people He wants us to be. Saint Oscar Romero is our inspiration for Project Compassion 2021, so in his words let's "Aspire not to have more, but to be more." By being more like Jesus we are fulfilling this.

As our students begin to prepare to reflect on the events of Holy Week, let us also reflect on how we can Be More.

Jesus Is Tested in the Wilderness (Matthew 4:1-11)

Then Jesus was led by the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted[ by the devil. After fasting forty days and forty nights, he was hungry. The tempter came to him and said, "If you are the Son of God, tell these stones to become bread."

Jesus answered, "It is written: 'Man shall not live on bread alone, but on every word that comes from the mouth of God.'"

Then the devil took him to the holy city and had him stand on the highest point of the temple. "If you are the Son of God," he said, "throw yourself down. For it is written:

"He will command his angels concerning you, and they will lift you up in their hands, so that you will not strike your foot against a stone."

Jesus answered him, "It is also written: 'Do not put the Lord your God to the test.'"

Again, the devil took him to a very high mountain and showed him all the kingdoms of the world and their splendor. "All this I will give you," he said, "if you will bow down and worship me."

Jesus said to him, "Away from me, Satan! For it is written: 'Worship the Lord your God, and serve him only.'"

Then the devil left him, and angels came and attended him. This is the Gospel of the Lord.
